order of the day with the resolution that the treaty to which France has set her hand shall be maintained, and will, no doubt, pursue the policy initiated by the land-scheme while redeeming some of the errors of the previous administration. The pretended conquest of Tunisia has so far been a military failure; but France will probably retain the stronger positions on the western frontiers and for the present withdraw her troops.

Lord Granville's speech at the Guildhall banquet was, as is usual with him, mild and rosy in regard to foreign affairs; but it is needless to conceal the fact that Continental and foreign politics in general are again beginning to excite attention, if not interest.

The rise of M. Gambetta has been so long anticipated it does not of itself attract much notice. But contemporaneously with a Gambetta Ministry in France comes the check which Prince Bismarck has received in his home policy. The results of the German elections continue to be in favor of the Liberal party, and, in some cases, of the Socialist party, although Herr Bismarck has just been defeated at Dresden and at Leipzig. It was an unwise move on the part of Prince Bismarck to fling a place before Germany so plain an issue for Bismarck's older Bismarck! No one believes in his again repeated threat of resignation, and at the same time it is not clear how he can work with the present Reichstag. If he determines on resignation, it must mean a frank return to absolute Government, which a German will not tolerate unless under fear of his neighbors.

Say what we will of Prince Bismarck, he is a thorough German and loves his pipe in peace. France may go to Tunis, the United States to Panama and England to Egypt, or Jericho if she likes, but Bismarck and Loebinghaus must remain in the Fatherland.

It is cruel that Alsace, after ten years' fatherly care, should have returned anti-German deputies. It is cruel that Germans themselves should have elected a Von Arnim and called up the Banco of the great Chancellor. Ungrateful wretches! he calls them and threatens to leave them. It is not very likely he will and how he will behave under the circumstances is a serious question for Europe. France in Tunis has made a move—not a very important one or a very good one, but it is a move. Austria has replied by affecting an alliance with England as yet makes no sign, and that is precisely the best thing she can do. Our greatest mistake now is in talking of what stupid people call a 'traditional foreign policy,' or indeed any active foreign policy at all. The relative strength of the European Powers and the general conditions are so changed we cannot work on the lines of tradition. The active policy of this country can only be developed as circumstances arise; and so far, we are very much in the position of Germany herself, except that we are not enveloped in foreign bayonets and can at times afford to be magnanimous.

Meantime we are reforming our army in a democratic sense, and soon we shall be laying down state cruisers a little larger and a little swifter than the projected fleet of the Americans, who are about to reconstruct their navy by building steel cruisers a little larger and a little swifter than those of other navies. The Prince of Wales is about to make a tour of all the great courts of Europe, to advocate the maintenance of the 'status quo.' So, H.R.H. must be going 'on his own hook,' but he may have some influence.

A probable deal between two high Argentine naval officers was rumored yesterday, all about a few hot words in the Cafe Colonne. The navy is not improving in public estimation, unfortunately.

There was also an 'incident' personal in Congress yesterday, over the 100 million loan, and it led to the resignation of Deputy Astigarraga, as member of the Finance Committee.

The bazaar organized by the American Church is proving the very greatest success. On entering the precincts of same, one is agreeably surprised with the good taste observed in all the arrangements, which reveal the hand of the fair patronesses. Amongst the stalls all admired those of the Spanish and Choir congregations and especially the work devoted to Flora; the flowers were beautifully set and excited the admiration of all present. The Christmas trees took one back to the North and the dainties and playthings hanging from the branches made the delight of the little ones. The art department, replete with every imaginable bric-a-brac that can grace a 'what-not,' a 'home-piece' or a parlour-table, was crowded with purchasers, who willingly yielded the contents of their purses to the moderate demands of the sellers. The ladies, with that special tact which is their greatest patrimony, knew how to satisfy their customers, and enjoyment beamed on the countenances of the very pater-familias, who became liberal for once in their lives.

On Christmas Day, at 11 o'clock the Right Rev. Dr. Stirling, Bishop

TUDOR, equal in quality and flavour to Teas sold at 30 mpc and 40 mpc lb. Parties who have once tried it take no other. SOLD EVERYWHERE of the Falklands, has kindly consented to preach at the Episcopal Chapel, San Jose de Flores. It is the occasion of the completion of alterations and renovation of the chapel, which have been carried out through the liberality of the British community of Flores. Amongst other gifts is a fine-toned American organ harmonium, presented by a member of the congregation.

There was no lively news from any quarter yesterday except from Azul, where, we regret to say, Mr. Barnes's photographic gallery was burned to ashes on Wednesday. Very little was saved, owing to the carmen-like conduct of Mr. B's opposite neighbour, who refused to allow any of the salvage to be placed in his house. The neighbours were loud in their expressions of indignation at this unchristian conduct. Was there no horse pond or 'laguna' near?

Plum pudding is getting into fashion in this country. The Germania almshouse at Moore's corner, Calle Reconquista, is now crowded daily with customers buying the ingredients for this British dish, which that house advertizes in another column. The premises are about to be enlarged, to meet its increasing output.

The Montevideo news yesterday was very wishy-washy; no 'revelations,' or likelihood of newspaper offices being sacked. Gen. Santos has gone to his estancia for Christmas.

We are glad to see the National Board of Health have paid prompt attention to Mr. Dawney's letter, a commendable denunciation of the fearful peril arising from the intermittent system of water supply, and are in no way disposed to accept Mr. Buttner's pool-poohing of such a serious business. The Board has had Mr. Dawney's letter, and this paper translated and laid before the National Government, begging that the matter may receive instant attention. This will somewhat reassure the citizens, who naturally feel nervous when the authority of the first sanitary engineers in Europe is quoted against the 'ipse dixit' of the local engineer of the Water Works. The sooner all doubts on the subject are cleared up the better. Meanwhile we advise all our subscribers to give up drinking pipe water, unless tempered by some other liquid stronger than itself.

A few days ago a fire occurred in Montevideo, which destroyed 7,162, 60 Nat. dollars. We only hope such disasters may happen often and carry off fifty per cent of all the paper (of all descriptions) in circulation in all South American Republics.

It is said that there is nothing in a name but we are not quite convinced that Carambola is the significant name of a distinguished Oriental Colonel who is now being feted in Montevideo.

Mr. Albert Guerriero has been named Argentine Consul in London, vice Mr. Carlos Capdevila who has resigned.

Advices from Rosario say that there is a remarkably wet drought in that department; not enough grass to feed a rabbit, and the wells are dry as a Dutch joke. The farmer's meat is the grizier's poison. Such is life.

The Nacion had a telegram from Pernambuco yesterday with European news per Humber to 30th ult. The Albanian League is again in the field, and a serious disturbance is feared. The Prince of Wales is about to make a tour of all the great courts of Europe, to advocate the maintenance of the 'status quo.' So, H.R.H. must be going 'on his own hook,' but he may have some influence.

we, think, were nettled; and the harmonious strains of the future organ are already heard by the frequenters of the choir. To-night the bazaar continues, and it will be the last night this week, so we recommend all our friends to attend, as they will meet familiar faces at every step and attractions in every stall; furthermore, they will lose no going, as the arrangements are beautiful and of the best we have witnessed in any bazaar held up to the present.

The French gunboat Tacique was to leave the Mana dock in Montevideo yesterday, and a lunch was to be given on board to the 'little life' of that great city. The following compose the French squadron now lying at the above port—Frigates Flores, Venus and Pallas; gunboats, Lifres, Tacique and Talman. The latter, the Tacique lately had an opportunity of showing their courage in a manner becoming the representatives of a great nation. It seems that one of the numerous bathers near where the Tacique is lying, was washed out to sea by the tide, and would most certainly have perished had it not been for the gallant and timely assistance afforded him by the sailors of the above gunboat, who at the peril of their lives rescued him from a watery grave.

The celebrated Doctor Enault will shortly pay another visit to the Plate.

In the dense weeds in the environs of Rosario no less than ninety six bodies have been discovered, and on close examination it has been proved that the unfortunate creatures had perished from the effect of strychnine. There will be little danger of hydrophobia in Rosario this summer.

The invasion of Indians in Santa Fe has fairly startled the public in earnest. The savages came 40 leagues inside the first line of frontier, and carried off all the horses of Col. Godoy's regiment at Belgrano, only 20 leagues from Santa Fe city, and 8 leagues from the banks of the Parana. The camp of the troops was only a horse's length from where their horses were stolen, under their very noses. The same night the savages assaulted an estancia a few squares from where the troops were. Two men were murdered by the Indians during the raid. The diligence between Santa Fe and Sator had a very narrow escape, passing the place only an hour after the Indians had crossed the Salado on their return to the Pampa with their booty. This daring invasion is calculated to demolish all confidence in the safety of the frontier. It is a rare disaster for the army than the Colorado raid.

The Andine Railway is being pushed ahead very rapidly. The works now reach to within five leagues of San Luis, and it is calculated that the earth-works will be finished to that city by New Year's Day. A few years ago people spoke of San Luis and Mendoza more or less in the same light as we do today of Central Asia or Timbuctoo. With the new railway we shall be able to pass from this city direct to Mendoza in twenty hours. San Luis and Mendoza are blessed with perhaps the healthiest climate in the world, have all kinds of mineral springs, and, backed by magnificent scenery, they will soon become known to the invalids of Europe who will there find an Eden—especially those persons suffering from diseases of the chest. Persons who have lived in Italy, South of France and Madeira, state that the climate of the Uyo provinces, at the foot of the Andes, is much more salubrious than that of any of the above countries.

A melancholy accident occurred lately in Gualeguay. A young lad cocked a gun and aimed it at a tree some thirty paces off, and, in so doing, he was killed. He was apparently thinking the weapon was unloaded, drew the trigger. If his surprise at the gun going off was great, his horror must have been indescribable to behold the corpse of his younger brother drop from the branches of the tree.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE STANDARD--Friday December 23, 1881

COLLAPSING FRENCH
BUBBLES.

The cable for some days past has conveyed frequent intimations of serious trouble among the Paris 'bears', and that the charge for continuing open accounts on the bourse in Paris at one time last week was at the rate of from fifteen to twenty per cent per annum. The pressure is described as 'unexampled in recent times', and this is accompanied by the not less significant statement that some of the most solid brokers are becoming awakened to the danger and are appealing to their clients to close their accounts. There is nothing, however, in this condition of affairs, as revealed in these brief sentences, which will excite surprise with those who have paid any attention to the reckless speculation which has been in progress, not only in Paris but throughout France, ever since the first recovery from the disasters attending the German war. Nearly all classes of the people have embarked on the whirlpool, and 'wild oats' that could not be floated even in a broad street broker shop have been eagerly sought at by investors, great and small, with an avidity that recalls the reminiscences of the Mississippi bubble. A striking illustration of the craze was the eagerness of the public to put its savings into the Pauama project; a scheme which our people, even when capital was going a begging for investments, could not be persuaded to touch. It looks now, however, as if the day of reckoning was at hand, and judging by the state of some of the financial journals, it will not be long before the bubble will collapse. The 'Pirates of the Bourse', is the portentous title of one leading article, while another authority informs us that Paris at this moment is infested with financial houses which are managed by malefactors, and who plunder the public with less risk than the highwayman or burglar. They have papers in circulation, the subscription prices of which are but 100 per annum, the aim of which is to take in fools by their exaggerations and lies. To start a blackmailing journal of this sort, it would appear, is the first point in the game of the Parisian financier. With the aid of a few confederates of small capital and unlimited dishonesty, a 'bank' is founded, clients are straightway promised 30 and 40 per cent dividends, and at once myriads of gudgeons bite at the tempting bait. A few items from the latest received papers will afford the reader some idea of the 'financial Kermesse' with which Paris has been entertained within the past few months.

The 'Union Financiere', a new institution, had grand offices in the Rue Richelieu, with gold signs and a special newspaper organ, which, instead, day after day, that a more profitable use could not be made of money than putting it in the coffers of the Union and the other enterprises with which it was connected. The 'Ligueenne', the Citizen de Paris, &c. The director, after using 400,000 francs belonging to his dupes, 'went North', and has not been heard from since.

The 'Credit Parisien', this, too, had a newspaper organ; annual subscription, ten cents. It was a small affair but it managed to swallow 400,000 francs.

The Philippians, the Soubeyran, and that class which believe in the 'Bourse', with gold signs and a special newspaper organ, which, instead, day after day, that a more profitable use could not be made of money than putting it in the coffers of the Union and the other enterprises with which it was connected. The 'Ligueenne', the Citizen de Paris, &c. The director, after using 400,000 francs belonging to his dupes, 'went North', and has not been heard from since.

is to dissolve. The capital was 2,500,000 francs. The stock was literally all water.

The Tribunal of Commerce has dissolved the Societe Anonyme du froid (Refrigerating Co.), and also a company that was to do all kinds of work requiring bitumen.

There is much talk about the creation, by the Credit Mobilier Espagnol, the Hispano-Colonial Bank and the Bank of Paris and Netherlands, of a company with a capital of 75,000,000 for working the tobacco plantations of the Philippine Islands.

The Societe Francaise d'Etudes et d'Entreprises has a capital of 2,000,000 francs and has just been organized. Its elastic title implies a wide field for the absorption of spare capital.

The Belgian Company La Force et la Lumiere (Force and Light) is a state of dissolution, although the prospectus was long since ostentatiously given notice that the company was about to revolutionize the world.

The failure of the Bank of Luxemburg the other day caused a loss of two millions to the Banque Francaise et Italienne.

The catalogue might be indefinitely extended, but we have cited sufficient to show that a vast capital is being swallowed up in enterprises of the most dubious description. There are some of the above institutions that are believed to be in fair standing, but the difficulty of finding investments is said to be making even conservative houses financially reckless. Of course this condition of things will in the ordinary course of events bring its own corrective. It is only a question of time, and unless we misinterpret the indications of the passing hour, the time is not remote.—N. Y. Paper.

MINISTER HURLBURT.

The mischievous consequences of the unwarranted interference of Minister Hurlbut in the contention between rival factions in Peru are realized sooner than was expected, the latest advices announcing that the Garcia Calderon Government, which Mr Hurlbut had so zealously espoused, has ceased to exist and that the Pierola Government, which he denounced, continued in session at Ayacucho. The Chileans now being in undisputed possession by right of conquest, the over-busy Minister, it would appear, has also taken them in hand, administering to them a kindly upon their duties in the peninsula, which, however excellent a thing in itself, is not calculated to make that power our friend. A wiser diplomat would have accomplished better things in a less offensive and meddling method. We do not know whether the State Department has commissioned Mr Hurlbut to this meddling in the Chilean-Peruvian affairs, but it is about time the country had come light on the subject. If he is carrying out instructions from Mr Blaine, we do not see how President Arthur can escape calling that functionary to account for so flagrant an intervention in other people's quarrels. If he is acting solely upon his own responsibility, then his peremptory recall would seem to be a duty which ought not to be a moment delayed.—N. Y. Bulletin.

A SURGICAL ENGINE.

The most startling application of mechanical principles which has come under our notice is that which has been made by Dr W G A Bonwill, of Philadelphia, in the department of surgery. It is startling because the amputation of a limb may now be effected by the aid of machinery, the machine being a surgical engine, invented by Dr Bonwill, and recently presented by that gentleman to St. Bartholomew's Hospital. The engine consists of an iron standard carrying an arrangement of multiplying wheel gear, which by means of an endless cord passing over pulleys transmits rapid rotary motion to either small drill or very fine circular saw, as the case may be. These instruments are attached to the end of a series of rods connected by universal joints forming elbows, which permit the operator to move the cutting instrument in any direction he pleases while it is revolving at an incredibly high speed. These instruments are intended to deal only with bone. This comparatively slow movement of the hand of the operator is here replaced by the inconceivably rapid motion of the mechanical saw. By this means not only is the time occupied in the operation greatly shortened, but the operation itself is more neatly performed, owing to the smallness of the cutting instrument and the high speed at which it is moved. This apparatus, which was brought under notice at the late Medical Congress, is stated to be in use in the United States with highly satisfactory results.
